WESTON

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE)

WESTON, Nov. 14.—W. E. Hardman, the Baltimore and Ohio engineer who was injured in a recent freight wreck this side of Clarksburg, is able to be out on the street again. Trolley cars are again running on regular schedule after being held up two days on account of the blizzard which did much damage, especially to the wires of the local telephone companies. Telephone service through the country is very bad yet.

A "Tom Thumb Wedding" will be given at the high school auditorium tonight by local boys and girls under the instruction of Miss Migliare for the benefit of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Charles B. Goodwin received word this week that his mother had contracted pneumonia fever and he left at once for her bedside in Ohio.

Mrs. Lowe Peterson and daughter have returned from a visit to relatives at Fairmont and Morgantown. The Wednesday Club met at the home of Miss Zeta Lively Wednesday afternoon.

The first number of the lecture course will be given at the high school auditorium Friday, November 21.

Superintendent Yoke and Misses Edna Arnold and Susan Smith of the local high school, returned Monday from Morgantown, where they accompanied the high school football team last Saturday. The game was lost to Morgantown by a score of 8 to 0.

The union Thanksgiving service this year will be held at the Methodist Episcopal church and the Rev. John Beddow will preach the sermon.

A number of Baltimore and Ohio surveyors were here Thursday surveying and measuring near the station for extensive improvements. Just what improvements are to be made is not known but it is thought that the switch at the station will be extended in front of the hospital to the pump station. The improvements are the result of the crowded condition of the local yards.

Practically all the teachers of the local schools left Thursday at noon for Morgantown to attend the teachers' round table which is being conducted there the latter part of the week.

Mrs. C. D. Cook is visiting relatives at Salem this week.

Work was again started on the interurban line being constructed to the Bailey House Thursday. The recent snow delayed the work of connecting up the track at the lower end of Main avenue where a large fill has just been completed.

It is feared that the present raise in the West Fork river will again damage the concrete bridge now under construction at Fourth street.

ACTION

In Ejectment is Proper Remedy in Certain Cases Says State Supreme Court.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 14.—In the case of Dahn against the Ohio River Railroad Company, a case that came up to the supreme court from Wood County, and which was reversed and remanded, Judge Williams delivering the opinion, some interesting principles were laid down in the case where a railroad company seized lands for its use. In the syllabus, Judge Williams says:

"Ejectment lies to recover land taken by a railroad company for its railroad tracks, without the knowledge, or against the protest, of the owner."

"A land-owner who sees a railroad company constructing its railroad through his land, and makes no objection until it is completed, is estopped to sue in ejectment, or enjoin the operation of the road."

"An unrecorded deed for a railroad right of way is void as to a subsequent purchaser of the servient land, without notice thereof."

"Prima facie, the date of a deed is the day of its execution, notwithstanding it was acknowledged at a later date."

"The doctrine of adversary possession is applicable to land acquired by a railroad company for its right of way."

"When such right of way is only an easement, occupation by enclosure and cultivation of a part of it, by the owner of the servient estate, until it is needed for the operation of the railroad, is presumed to be permissive and not adverse; and the statute of limitations will begin to run only from the time the railroad company has notice of the occupier's hostile claim."

In the case of Bank against Williamson et al., from Pleasants county, which was reversed and remanded, President Joffenbarger of the supreme court, delivering the opinion, the syllabus reads:

"A purchaser of the assets of an insolvent firm under a proposal to pay, in consideration thereof, one-third of each of the several debts of the firm, assented to by practically all of the creditors, cannot retract or withdraw his proposal so as to bar acceptance thereof by one of the creditors to whom payment has not been made, without having first restored the status quo."

"If, in such case, a creditor whose claim has not been provided for in the decree confirming the purchase, file a cross-bill or an answer in the nature of a cross-bill, seeking the benefit of the contract of purchase, assented to by the other creditors, but not formally accepted by him, such claim so made amounts to an acceptance of the unperfected offer of the purchaser, and relief on the cross-bill is limited to a decree against the latter for payment of one-third of the debt."

"Such relief may be granted by an additional decree upon the cross-bill without reversal or disturbance of the previous one."

SHAFT

In Memory of the First President of the United States is Being Erected.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 14.—Masons have just finished setting in Washington monument Colorado's contribution to the shaft in memory of the first president. It is a beautiful specimen of Colorado Yale marble, the same material which has been selected for the two million dollar Lincoln memorial to be placed on the bank of the Potomac river just west of the monument.

This marble comes from within the Sopris national forest, which furnishes a large part of the timber used in the quarrying operations. The maintenance of timber supplies for this and for other quarries and mines is, according to forestry officials, an important part of their work. It will always be their aim, they say, to maintain a supply of timber for this local demand as an aid in the development of one of Colorado's great resources, of which Governor Ammons, who came to Washington to arrange for the placing of the stone, is very proud.

The stone itself will present a rectangular face two by four feet, upon which the name and seal of the state are inscribed together with the year in which the state was admitted. It is on the 290 foot landing inside the monument in the middle of the east wall and is thus one of the highest of the many tributes which line the lower part of the historic obelisk. It is now draped from the gaze of the public awaiting a date to be set by Senator Shafroth for simple unveiling ceremonies.

Can you imagine how poor an impression is made on a business man by a work-hunter who personally comes to his office (merely in the course of random looking around) and asks for employment? Nowadays there are just two ways of reaching possible employers. One is to answer their "help and wanted" ads. In the Daily Telegram. The other is to get them to answer your "situation wanted" ad. Both methods are open to you.
